Spirit 1990

In ten or twenty years, what memories will remain of the pleasure and pain of your high school career? There will always be those few very close friends, perhaps a special teacher, or a particular activity you may have been part of, but the everyday occurances, the ones that told who you really were, what kind of student you were, who you hung around with, or what you and your friends wore, tend to become fuzzy with time.

Beginning with early cave drawings, there has always been a desire to leave behind some proof of one's existence and lifestyle. The bellows camera on the cover symbolizes a more traditional recognition of that same desire, forever capturing the spirit of the moment in a picture. A yearbook is truly an archive, in some cases the only documentation for a community of who its young people were, and what they were like at a particular point in time.

A poster in the yearbook "office" asks: "When you're old, say 30, will you ever be able to prove you were once young?" Yes! Step into THE BIG PICTURE, 1990, and for many years to come, may you find within these pages, pictures of your youth and your days at Mill River.

If You Are What You Eat .....

Whether you do or don't eat school food, you might still be interested in the following facts. As most of you know lunch costs: $1.05, Favorite lunch: Cheese pizza, Least favorite lunch: Spanish rice, Favorite dessert: Ice cream, Favorite milk: chocolate, Most stolen thing from the cafeteria: Chips, Most thrown-out things: Soup bowls. (Silverware is also constantly being replaced).

Leaning tower of pizzas.

Candy conscious.

Environmentally concerned students reached a compromise with the lunch staff. If soup bowl loss was significantly reduced, real rather than styrofoam bowls would be

What kind of person would do this?

Locking It Up?

When someone mentions the word locker, what is your first thought? Probably "boring, boring, boring." And in many cases this is probably true. But a locker is a reflection of someone's personality, not just where you can stuff your books.

What kind of lockers do we have here at Mill River? Mostly those small grey things that you can barely fit your books into. If you're really lucky, you have a large locker with a coat hook and more space.

But the lockers only look boring on the outside. When you open them up you never know what you'll find. Everything from girls in bikinis, male rock stars and famous sports figures to comic strips and magazine slogans. And there are always the people who keep smelly socks and three week old tuna sandwiches, but we decided to leave those to the imagination.

Lately we've noticed that the name "locker" has been losing its meaning, since so few are ever locked. Why don't we just call them bookshelves?

Neat freak or neat freaks? How many people live in this locker?

It's in there!

Locking it up?

On the day of Jan. 4 1990 there were:

299 unlocked lockers

421 locked lockers

Fads And Fashions

One doesn't have to look very long to notice the variety of styles at Mill River. If you're like most, you probably have a few tee-shirts or pairs of jeans in your closet, and walk through the halls in your comfortable boat shoes. And adding a sweater to your outfit is always a good idea if you spend any time in the auditorium or music room during the winter. While some pay a lot of attention to their appearance, perhaps you, along with other more casual dressers, don't mind a few holes in your jeans, occasionally held together with safety pins, or a few wrinkles in your shirt. Who knows what you might come up with when you're late for school and grab anything within your reach? If you're more of a free spirit, you might have been seen wearing psychedelic tie-dyed shirts, trench coats or combat boots. Maybe you wear a bracelet given to you by a friend or your sweetheart's class ring. It might be that you display the letter you earned on your school jacket. prefer a stone-washed jean jacket or feel best in your MR sweatshirt. No doubt you make a contribution to the big picture of Mill River fashion, whatever you wear.

Is Julia C. modeling a possible school uniform, or just a nice dresser?

Reeboks, out. Nikes, in!

Liza R. insista, "It's easy!".

Signs Of The Times

Minutemen March On Washington

Uniform adjustment.

Everybody say "cheese"!

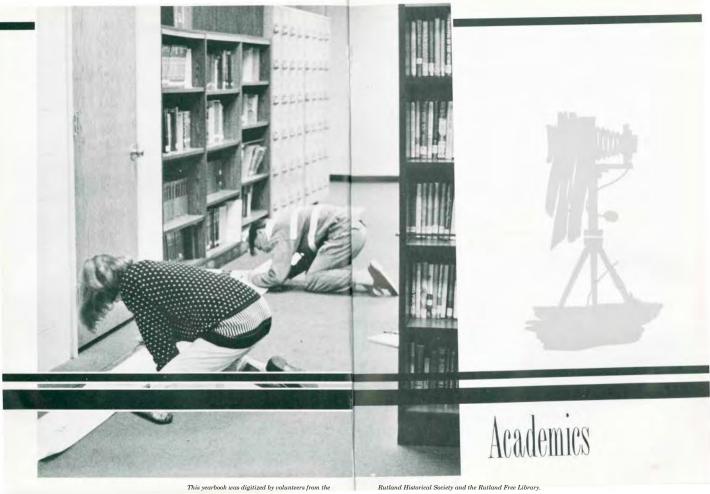

As band members boarded the bus on the morning of July 3rd, they may have been just beginning the actual trip to Washington D.C., but they were also ending months of long, hard work to arrive at this point. With profits from bake sales, candy sales and dances, generous donations from groups and organizations throughout the community, and $15,000 from the State of Vermont, the band met the nearly $40,000 cost of marching in the July 4th parade.

Early morning sun turned to torrential downpours, with some students reporting "eats and dogs" and others describing kneedeep puddies once the parade started. Marching steadily in spite of the rain, once past the reviewing stand there was a mad dash for buses and dry clothes. Imagine everyone's surprise, especially Mr. Giles', when it was announced that the Mill River Marching Band, the only school to represent New England in the entire parade, was honored with the Spirit of America award! Invited to march in the 1992 parade, the big question is: Mr. Giles, would you do it all again????

You forgot what??

Our hand even looks great from behind!

Estelle Shares a French Smile

Mill River is lucky to have Estelle Laurent studying among us this year. Perhaps you've seen this talented French exchange student in the crowded halls. Here are some things you may not know about her.

An only child, eighteen year old Estelle comes from Bischheim which is located near the West German border. She chose to study in the U.S. to learn English by living with people who speak it, instead of learning it from books. Also, Estelle wanted a more realistic and objective view of the U.S. not just as it appears on TV and in magazines.

During her stay, she has discovered many interesting differences between French and American schools. Estelle finds relationships are better and more easy-going among American students, and between the students and their teachers. She also feels that schools in the U.S. are less strict, less competitive and easier to succeed in.

After returning home, Estelle plans to attend college in Spain or France. When asked whether she had plans to return to Vermont (which she describes as COLD!) but very, very nicel she was uncertain but replied, "If you invite me I'll come!"

Vibeke Brings Danish Flare Dear Friends.

Since I've come to Mill River High School four months ago. I've learned a lot from life that I'll never forget. Being in Vermont is an experience that I would not trade for anything. I'm having a great time here. Everybody is being very friendly, and I've made some good friends here that I'll miss very much when I have to go home. I have come to enjoy life in Vermont very much and I'm planning to come back for college.

I've also had a great time participating in Stage 40. It was a lot of fun and a good way to meet new people from school. Something else that makes my staying here nice is my host family. I'm living with very nice people who are always there for me and who teach me a lot.

Being an exchange student has been a wonderful opportunity for me.

Your friend, Vibeke Kiaergaard

Mariano Adds Peruvian Style

Queridos Amigos,

Up to today I have been in Vermont for four months. In this short time I have been able to appreciate how nice
Americans are.

Mill River is treating me very well. People at this school are very open and making friends is easy. They are always worried about me having a great stay. I will never forget my birthday celebration, it was just excellent!

At the beginning of the school year I had a great time on the cross-country team. With them I could see how big the sporting spirit is here.

My host families are some of the best people I have everknown in my life. They are always trying to make me feel very comfortable amongst them and are there when I need help. Not only the kids, but also the teachers at Mill Riverare people who I will never forget. Besides the school, there are also the Rotary Club members: Exemplary people!

Now I want to thank all these people for everything they have done for me, and for the knowledge and fun provided

Gap Narrows Between Sexes

According to a New York Times News Service article, the gap between male and female performance on standardized tests has disappeared on verbal tests and is narrowing on mathematics tests.

Data from the 1970's showed a pronounced difference in the scores of males and females. with females on average scoring higher on verbal tests and males scoring higher on mathematical sections.

Speculating on the reason for these changes researchers cite a variety of possible explanations including changes in the educational experiences and expectations of males and females, as well as changes in the tests or types of students who take them.

Citizen Bee activities begin in local schools under the direction of Mill River's Citizen Bee coordinator, Mr. Probst. School activities lead to competitions at the regional and state levels. State level winners proceed to the National Competition held each June in Washington, D.C. This year's participants will be Matthew Mangels and Kelly Kennedy.

Trip To Washington D.C.

Close Up Foundation

On April 29, three Mill River students, Laurie Brown, Robin Lagro. and Melissa Raiford, departed on a week-long trip to Washington, D.C., as part of a program called "Close-Up". The name comes from the fact that the program provides a "closeup" view of our government and the people who help run it.

The majority of the students' week will be spent attending over fifteen seminars, and visiting such places as Capitol Hill and the Pentagon, Participants in the past have met such people as Presidents Reagan and Bush, cabinet officials, and journalists such as Sam Donaldson.

The idea was to take students out of the classroom and show them how the government works by methods other than the textbook.

The $822 per student cost is being defraved by the sale of doughnuts before and after school. Mill River's sponsor for the trip is history teacher Richard Probst. The program is considered a good experience whether you're planning a career in government or just interested in political science

Have You Been To The Fair?

On Monday, February 26, and Wednesday, February 28, students grades 7-12 presented projects at the science fair. The projects, worth 25% of each student's 4th marking period grade, deal with either life, earth, or physical science. Set up around school, projects are evaluated by 45 judges, which, this year, include science teachers from every school in the area, the science faculty of Castleton State College, and dentists and nusse with a background in science. The projects are judged on their use of the scientific method, the variable and control, the basis of their conclusions, and whether their conclusions are logical or not. The best 30-35 projects are sent to the state competitions.

The idea of the science fair is to give the students a chance to work like real scientists, to plan, organize, and carry out their own experiments. Both creative and critical thinking skills are used as students undertake the responsibility for projects from start to finish. Hopefully, students interest in the sciences will grow as a result of the shared information from the science fair.

Blown Away!

The National Honor Society, or the "NHS", is a group of seventeen seniors who are advised by Mr. Harlow. Throughout the whole year most of their time is spent in organizing fund raisers. The money raised is used for a variety of causes. This year considerable amounts were given to the Red Cross to help victims of Hurricane Hugo, and also to the Rodney Sedegran Scholarship Fund. Fundraising activities have included a poster sale, two bottle drives, a service raffle in which NHS members raffle off two hours of their time, a bake sale, and the selling of carnations for Valentine's Day. Every Christmas, the NHS organizes and delivers food baskets to families in the area. Among the provisions supplied were turkeys and hams, eggs, milk, butter, cheese, bread, fruits, potatoes, onions, and carrots. Contributions of food and money were collected from all the T.A.'s with the food put in baskets and the money being used to buy perishable goods. All in all, baskets were given to fifty-six families this year, with certain families receiving wrapped gifts of clothing. On the day after April vacation the movie "Dead Poet's Society" was shown to the English classes of grades nine through twelve. Even though this was a fund raiser, the movie was actually a part of English class. Just before a bottle drive, the NHS has a tradition of holding a pizza party at Mr. Harlow's house. All the pizzas are made themselves, some of which have gained immense praise from Mr. Harlow's tastebuds. If asked what the purpose of the NHS is as an organization, a member would probably tell you that it was working on serving the community while having fun in the process.

Mathcounts

Some students like sports, music, or art, and then there are those who like numbers. That's where Mathounts comes in: Mathounts, an activity program developed by math teachers, promotes learning math skills and solving new or different types of problems. Students enter competitions where they have a chance to meet Mathount students from other schools all over the nation. Mill River Mathounts students have done very well in the past and hope to go to Washington to compete again this year. The students in Mathounts have a lot of fun and are really good at what they do. The advisors of Mill River Mathounts are Mr. Barker and Mr. Tucker.

Not Just For Kicks

Tri-captains Lisa Robbins, Stacy Carpenter and Shelle Costantino led the Varsity Girls' Soccer Team to an 8-6-2 season, losing the Division II State Quarterfinals 2-1 to Springfield High School.

Lisa Robbins, recipient of the Rod Sedegren Award, was named to the Marble Valley All-Opponent and All-State All-Opponent Teams.

The best game was against Mt. Anthony: The score didn't show it. The most memorable was against Middlebury: Starting on the wrong bus, changing to a bus that broke down and waiting in the rain for the third bus, the girls arrived in soaked uniforms an hour late and played in a deluge. Won in double overtime with Heather Clarke's goal, no one left the game dry, clean or warm, and, no one left without a smile!

A Kick In The Grass

Lead by captains Greg Vignoe and Evan Strusinski the 1989 Boys' Varsity Soccer Team was one of the youngest Mill River has seen in recent years. The senior group included returnees Zak Grace and Elias Bauman as well as Brady Gainer. Fourteen juniors and two sophomores rounded out the field.

In a season marked by a number of one and two goal differences that could have gone either way, the boys ended with 4-8-2 record, just missing a playoff berth in the final game against Brattleboro, one of the most exciting games of the

Marble Valley Champs

Winning the 1989 Marble Valley League Championships at Manchester's Equinox Country Club was the perfect ending to a fine season for Coach Wallett's team. Long hours of practice in blazing heat, cold winds and rain paid off well when Mill River placed 6th out of sixteen teams at the Division II State Meet in Montpelier.

Highlights of the season include junior Zachary Grace placing 2nd at the MVI. Championships, junior Mike Tarbell placing 6th, and respective 8th and 10th place wins for seniors Ryan Johnson and John Janoski. Ryan Johnson, Zach Taylor and Mike Tarbell were selected to the All-MVI. Cross Country Team. Ryan Johnson was also selected to receive the Rod Sedegren Sportsmanship award for Cross Country.

Pin To Win

Lead by captains Greg Vignoe and Dean Tyminski and two other seniors, Eric Austin and Dana Carrara, the 1989-90 Wrestling team was very young and inexperienced with only four freshman and four sophomores and three juniors.

The dual meet record was not the best, with only 2 wins and 14 losses, but the team improved with every match. The tournament results were more impressive with Greg Vignoe, Dean Tyminski, and Dana Carrara placing first or second in all five tournaments.

Only five varsity wrestlers went to the VT State wrestling championships at Harwood Union H.S., but the team placed 8th out of 20 teams, with Dean Tyminski winning the 119 lb. championship, Dana Carrara winning the 189 lb. championship, and Greg Vignoe winning the 112 lb. runner-up and receiving a plaque for his one hundred career wins. All three were also selected to the All-MVL Wrestling Team.

At the JV Regional Championships Place Finishers were: Ken Troumbley, Rafe Richardson, and Rob Poro.

In 1976 Stage 20, Mill River's drama group for grades 7, 8, and 9, was created. Mrs. Snarski started the group because Stage 40 was for grades 10, 11, and 12, and she felt the 7th, 8th, and 9th graders needed the chance to experience drama before they started Stage 40.

Stage 20 offers the students the chance to become interested in the arts, to maybe find that they have a talent, but best of all it's a non-academic way to work hard, make new friends, and be successful.

Stage 20 meets once a week, but can meet as much as four when a performance draws near.

This year's productions were 'Cinderella Wore Combat Boots', and 'The Scheme of the Driftless Shifter', directed by Melanie Jarvis and Janna Salmon.

As stated in the program for Improv 40, improvisational theatre started with the theatre games of Viola Spolin in Chicago 25 years ago, Her son, Paul Sills, formed the famous company "Second City". By the late sixties there were companies in about every major city, such as Boston's "Proposition Company", and New York's "Gotham City Improv". Today over one hundred and fifty companies exist, and out of them have come such famous people as Lily Tomlin, John Belushi, Eddie Murphy, Jane Curtin, Steve Martin, Artie Johnson and Park Overall.

Improv 40 is now in its second season, and is considered a major addition to the training of actors. The group of ten actors, directed by Mellony Jarvis, work without scripts, following a clear framework of beginnings, middles, and endings. Each scene's direction depends on the suggestions of the audience.

Rodney "Rod" Sedegren came to Mill River in the summer of 1975. One of our school's first custodians, he also served as bus co-ordinator for many years. Rod was a devoted friend to everyone he knew. He was a father-figure to many students who attended Mill River. Rod will be greatly missed by the friends he acquired throughout his years at Mill River. The 1990 SPIRIT is dedicated to the memory of Rodney Sedegren for his years of hard work and his devotion to those at Mill River Union High

Class Of 1995

Long before the first day of school, administrators and teachers busily prepared for the largest 7th grade class ever to enter Mill River. Almost fifty percent larger than the previous class, students came from Clarendon, Wallingford, Shrewsbury, Tinmouth, Ira, Middle Town Springs and Danby. Often parents view the new high school situation as scary. If it was scary for students, the fear was quickly overcome by excitement and enthusiasm for new friends and experiences. The smiling faces tell the picture.

After learning to prepare a meal, these students demonstrate the "four stages of eating," a frequent and favorite 7th grade

Food: The Secret Of The Growing 7th Grade?

A favorite activity of 7th graders appears to be Mrs. Slack's Foods class. Chris Summers bites into a class assignment.

The class of '95 elections boasted some very exciting art work. Although Dave Whitmer didn't win, his posters were definite winners.

"Some of the best lasagne I've ever eaten," said Mr. Houghton when invited to share a meal prepared by Mrs. Slack's Food class.

Some days in 7th grade are worse than others. Kandis Decker, was this an especially bad day, or hopefully the Halloween dance?

Ask your parents if Home Ec was this much fun when they were in school! Ann King and Brenda Allen empty the punch bowl.

Class Of 1994

Don't be misled by the size of this year's class! What they lack in numbers, 110 students, they make up for in energy and enthusiasm. A large percentage of students have found out how much fun extracurricular activities are, with many students playing intramural sports, joining Stage 20 and Math Counts. There is also much musical involvement, with some very promising talent. They have an interesting range of outside activities as well, including horses, computers and three-wheelers. This will definitely be a class to watch!

Class of 1992 11 down, 2 to go!

Officially viewed as members of the upper house, sophomores also find that with the perceived increase in status come added responsibilities. Teachers seem to expect more from 10th graders; parents expect you to get a job; employers structure your precious free time for you; etc. Welcome to the real world! You've been subjected to the DAT, possibly the PSAT (a sample of things to come!), probably the written and road tests to get your license. In spite of all this, 10th graders do find time for fun and activities as pictured throughout this book.

Many students complain about the restrictions placed on them. Here though G. Lazur is part of a backboard demonstration for Driver's Ed.

The creators of THE BIG PICTURE would especially like to thank:

Don Sanderson for all the sports candids that he took for us. Zak Grace and Charles Austin, Tycen Blucher and Mr. Houghton for their betp with photography around the school; Mr. Francis for his technical expertise and kind thoughts; Mrs. Hyzer for the access to the printer and copier, Mrs. Lareau for the use of the computer room; Bud Steele and John Staples for maintaining their sense of humor about the messes we have created and the number of doors they opened for us. Perhaps more than most people, they are aware of the Myriad hours (days, nights, weekends, and vacations...) that are required to produce a quality yearbook, or decade or century book, as they refer to it; Ms. Holden for allowing extended use of the guidance office as the yearbook office; Mr. Houghton and the faculty for their acceptance of all other unnamed interruptions.
